

Almost alone...
Almost free...
Searching through the Darkness

Soaring toward the light . . .

Striving for one's

Someone, a shining warmth behind a glowing smile, reaches out a hand to help us along the way — a friend.

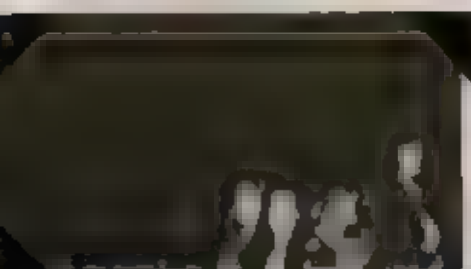

A funny thing, overwhelming, yet so very simple, blocks our way and we're touched — by love.

The good times and the bad we give to one another as a beautiful gift called memories — we share.

Because of loyal, trusting friends. In spite of the crushing realities of love. In memory of the moments we've shared — there's happiness.

I often Wonder where the other road would have led me.
The one I passed
And will never come upon again.
But I have learned
by making my own decision,
And I know that as I travel on my continuous journey
There will come a time when I will say,
"I have seen this road before."

And I will know

Which way to go.

*Andy Yartin
"Tiger"*

The crooked grin. The hearty laugh. The twinkling eyes that coaxed you into smiling. These were the beautiful things God gave him and he shared them with us. He touched many lives and each one benefited from his friendship. He watched the growing of young lives through his clear blue eyes. The young woman clutching at the wheel with sweating palms as she listened to a calm voice giving her instructions. In her he saw a confident driver. The young man, running laps on any empty field, respecting and hating the coach at the same time. In him he saw a future football player. We will remember him as we work and as we play. We will miss him but knowing he's watching. He's watching and so doing and saving. That's it Tiger."

*This is where our Odyssey
The end lies beyond the open door
past the light

The Last Day

We would like to thank a thanks to the people who have served as our phers, business managers and most importantly as friends

Michael George and Dan Novakovich are

Terry Roberts, Joyce Kozlowski, Gary Chapnicka, Dan Kozlowski,
and photography

Mr. George, his manager
Cheryl Grandy, Terry Roberts and Darlene Turkovich and members of the Yearbook Business — And of course, the most beautiful of them all Mrs. Z...

TIME DRAWS NEAR

Time draws near
Eternity makes no promise
The joys of yesterday soon Become memories of today,
And the cherished memories of tomorrow

Time runs out
Eternity denies us Yesterday's joys are the Memories of today,
And the cherished
memories of tomorrow

Time lives on Eternity follows its own path
Yesterday's joys are now
Yesterday's memories,
And the cherished
memories of today

Time surpasses
Eternity is far beyond Yesterday's memories are Now the cherished
memories,
Forgotten by all the new world Except we.

— John Righetti

Thank You
